2nd St COPERNICUS - NO BORDERLINE CD
Pe Nevermore - 170150 Brooklyn NY 11217

Ah...yeah...okay. This ain't exactly what I'm used to. It's almost like a Shakespearean play - you can't quite understand what's being said but you know there's some heavy shit going down. Sorta gothic, dark poetry over a backing soundtrack - sometimes actually forming pop-like songs, sometimes tribal, sometimes electro-synth weirdness; but through it all, Copernicus has an engaging hypnotic demanding voice. It reminds me of those old, scary Halloween story-telling records. If you like the unusual, macabre, vampires, P<sup>1</sup> "The Last Tempest", Faust...I'm keeping my copy, I dig it fully. ROT
